again the "temperance beer" folks have found relief. It has been held by the Internal Revenue Bureau that a fermented liquor containing less than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol may be sold by a person not helding a special tax stamp as a wholesale or retail dealer in malt liquors. Some breweries, therefore, are producting beverages through the regular process of manufacturing fermented in Los Angeles, Cal. bona fide circulation—a circulation in Son not holding a special tax stamp as a Washington larger by thousands than was ever before attained by any morning newspaper at the Capital. > One of the mysterious items of revenue is the sum annually collected on snuff, which bears the same tax as that levied on tobacco-6 cents per pound. It is true that the receipts for this fiscal year will show a slight decrease, but no more than a sympathetic reduction in keeping with the general decline in the revenues. It is very likely that the official report, judging from data just made public, will show a production of 25,000,000 pounds of snuff during the twelve months ended to-day. Where this snuff goes, who uses it, and paid; last year twice that amount was procured. Possibly a great deal of it is
